

Where to Stay in Rome

Preamble:

- This is a list of possible hotel options during your stay in Rome.
- All the options are in favorable locations, in the city center and next to a subway stop.
- Remember, I am NOT a travel agent, I'm from Rome so I have never stayed personally at any of the hotels I am suggesting below. I simply did a detailed google search and came up with the list below. Hopefully, all my suggestions are great but I certainly cannot guarantee it 100%.
- This is not a complete list, if you find something else you like, simply reach out to me and I can help verify that the location is good, as well as the quality of the place chosen.
- DO NOT book from Trivago.com or Booking.com as there is always an overcharge. Once you have picked the place you'd like to stay at, send me a message and I will help you with the booking.
- A very good alternative is to book an Airbnb. Particularly if you book as a group, the cost may be significantly cheaper while not compromising the quality of your stay.

If you decide to go this route, contact me before completing the booking so I can help verify that you chose a good location and place.

- The simplest suggestion if you want to pick on your own. Try to select a place nearby a subway station of the METRO A. The best locations are nearby the following stations: Repubblica, Barberini, Spagna, Lepanto, Cavour, Ottaviano.
